Interesting survey! Maybe it would be worthwhile to mention semi-supervised techniques to utilize unlabeled data? There are many different approaches, if you are interested, check out this nice survey: X. Zhu, "Semi-Supervised Learning Literature Survey," Technical Report 1530, Univ. of Wisconsin-Madison, 2006.

In the field of computer science, artificial intelligence (AI), sometimes called machine intelligence, is intelligence demonstrated by machines, in contrast to the natural intelligence displayed by humans and other animals. Computer science defines AI research as the study of "intelligent agents": any device that perceives its environment and takes actions that maximize its chance of ...

Artificial neural networks (ANN) or connectionist systems are computing systems vaguely inspired by the biological neural networks that constitute animal brains. The neural network itself is not an algorithm, but rather a framework for many different machine learning algorithms to work together and process complex data inputs. Such systems "learn" to perform tasks by considering examples ...

The Birth of Probability and Statistics The original idea of "statistics" was the collection of information about and for the "state". The word statistics derives directly, not from any classical Greek or Latin roots, but from the Italian word for state.. The birth of statistics occurred in mid-17 th century. A commoner, named John Graunt, who was a native of London, began reviewing a weekly ...
